To whom it may concern,

We are writing in support of Professor Paddy Dewan.

We first came into contact with Professor Paddy Dewan 18 years ago when our son Nathan was born with a urinary tract malformation. Luckily for us at that time Prof. Dewan was in Adelaide, as were we.

Since that time we have had many operations and appointments with Prof Paddy, and we all have the utmost appreciation for his surgical skill, personal manner and up-to-date (world leading) research and expertise.

We have found Paddy to be thorough, meticulous, patient, co-operative and exceedingly calm. He is caring our son to both as his patient and a person, as well as to ourselves as parents.

We've had absolute confidence in Paddy during our many trying episodes. Paddy always makes time to explain things to us and answer our questions, making us feel both heard and respected. We have never felt under pressure to respond in a prescribed way, but have been enabled to make choices that best suit Nathan.

We are concerned that anything about this kind and visionary person could be in any way misunderstood or deliberately misconstrued.

Yours faithfully
